DESTROYER BEACHED WITH FORTY MISSING AFTER HITTING MINE

Twenty-One Officers and Men of H.M.S. Gipsy Wounded—German Freighter Intercepted Off Coast of Iceland—Italian Steamer Badly Damaged but Afloat After Explosion

LONDON, Nov. 22 (P).—The British destroyer Gipsy struck a mine off the East Coast of England yesterday and was beached, the Admiralty announced tonight. Twenty-one officers and men were injured and forty naval ratings were missing following disabling of the 1,335-ton vessel—one of about 200 such ships in the Royal Navy and the second to be attacked successfully in the present war. The Admiralty announced on November 14 that an unidentified destroyer had struck a mine.

The Gipsy was the fifth British naval vessel apart from minesweepers to figure in disasters since the war started. The first was the aircraft carrier Courageous, torpedoed September 17; second was the battleship Royal Oak, torpedoed in her Scapa Flow anchorage October 14; the third, the submarine Okeley, whose loss was announced November 8, and the fourth, the unidentified destroyer.

The Admiralty announced that a British warship and intercepted the 4,100-ton German freighter Bertha Fisser off the coast of Iceland, picking up the crew from lifeboats to which they took after trying to scuttle their ship. (A dispatch from Reykjavik, Iceland, indicated the Bertha Fisser may have been sunk.)

APPOINTED TO HIGH COMMAND

Major-General B. C. Freyberg, V.C., Is to Head New Zealand's Overseas Forces

LONDON, Nov. 22 (P).—A forty-nine-year-old Great War hero of the Dardanelles, Major-General Bernard Cyril Freyberg, was called out of retirement tonight to command New Zealand's overseas forces, as the Wellington Government announced completion of its first echelon for service under the Allied command.

The King gave approval of Major-General Freyberg's appointment. At the same time a statement by Michael J. Savage, the New Zealand Prime Minister, was issued here saying the first echelon was awaiting embarkation when transport would be available.

TO CONTINUE ORGANIZING
Major-General J. E. Duggan, chief of the general staff in New Zealand, is remaining within the Dominion to continue the work of organization and training of troops.

It was Major-General Freyberg who, with his skin painted a khaki camouflage, swam half a mile from a destroyer during the Dardanelles campaign, carrying flares which attracted the attention of Turkish soldiers. While they were investigating the flares, British troops were landing at other points.

DISTINGUISHED RECORD

Born in London in 1890, he was educated at Wellington, N.Z. He served in the Great War with the Hood Battalion, R.N.D., from 1914 to 1918, and received the V.C. in 1918. Mentioned in dispatches six times, he was wounded nine times, and received the D.S.O. and two bars.

In 1917-18 he was brigadier with the 26th Division. After the war he commanded the 1st Battalion of the Manchester Regiment from 1929-31, and was assistant quartermaster-general of the Southern Command, 1931-33. He became general staff officer, first grade, at the War Office in 1933, and retired in 1937.

Flames Destroy Four Oil Wells

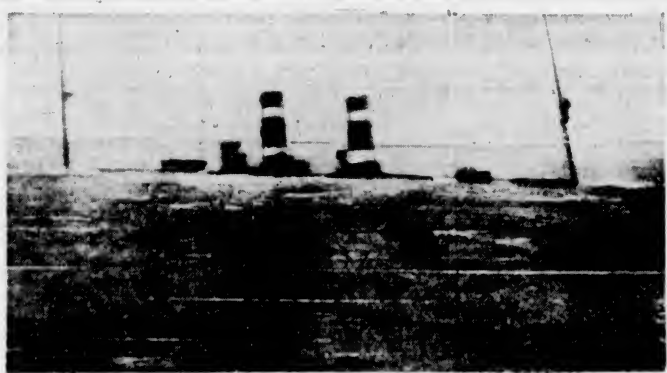

VENTURA, Cal., Nov. 22 (P).—Four oil wells were destroyed and 2,500 acres of brushland were burned over tonight as fire swept through Timber Canyon, between Fillmore and Santa Paula.

Four hundred men were on the firelines. The oil wells destroyed by the flames were owned by an independent concern. Somewhere in the path of the fire was a canyon cattle ranch owned by Bill Boosey, and many wildcat oil wells.

Dutch Liner Victim of German Mine

The masts and superstructure are all that may be seen of the Dutch liner, Simon Bolivar, as she sank in the North Sea, off the East Coast of England, after striking a floating German mine. Eighty-six persons lost their lives in the sinking. This picture was taken shortly before the Simon Bolivar plunged to the bottom of the sea, and flashed to New York by radio and transmitted by Phonophoto.

Two U-Boats Sunk In Three Days by French Destroyer

Government of France Sets Up Special "Inner Cabinet" to Help Co-ordinate Economic Fight And Joins With Great Britain in Blockade of Seaborne Nazi Exports

PARIS, Nov. 22 (CP-Havas).—The French Government tonight announced formation of a special "Inner Cabinet" to help co-ordinate the Allies' economic fight against Germany, joined Great Britain in parallel action to block seaborne Nazi exports, and disclosed the sinking within the past three days of two U-boats by one French destroyer.

No details of the destruction of the U-boats were made public other than in the communiqué which said that "two enemy submarines, one of which was spotted by naval aircraft, were sunk by the same destroyer in a three-day period."

Authoritative French sources said that the French Government's decision to seize German exports on the high seas was essentially in reprisal for Germany's unrestricted mine and submarine warfare in violation of all rules of international law, which the Reich had pledged itself to respect.

ANNOUNCES COMMITTEE

An official communiqué, issued by the Foreign Ministry, made public the creation of a committee of programs and Allied purchases.

WATCHING FOR ENEMY RAIDERS

South Africa Takes Precautions Against Attacks By German Ships

CAPETOWN, Nov. 22 (P).—Precautions against attack by an enemy sea raider have been taken throughout the Union of South Africa.

Precautions include a complete black-out of all lightships, suspension of wireless communication between ships, a watch on all telegrams containing information of ship movements and closing of all harbors to the public. Persons entering harbors on lawful business require permits.

(Reports from Swakopmund, S.W. Africa, said on Monday night the 16,662-ton German liner Wundt, which escaped from Invermear at the Portuguese West African port of Lobito, had been fitted as a raider and had disguised itself as a British ship.)

(Earlier a German armed raider was reported as the attacker of the British steamer Africa Shell, sunk within Portuguese territorial waters off Sabara in the Mozambique Channel.)

One Dead in Train Wreck In Illinois

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 22 (P).—The engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern's Winnemago passenger train, loaded with Northwestern University students homeward bound for the holidays, was killed and several persons shaken late today, when the locomotive and first four cars left the track near here.

Sheriff Thomas Kennedy said he was investigating a report that the locomotive had overtaken a handcar operated by three railroad workmen, who jumped and ran when they saw they could not get the car off the track before the train struck it.

As a member of the party of Empire ministers in London for discussions with the British Government, Mr. Crerar just completed a tour of the war operations in England and France, including a visit to the front line.

Romance of war had been "blacked out," the minister said, and people everywhere were grimly engaged in playing their part in the struggle realizing that the war could not be fought and won entirely by military forces in the field.

INSISTS TWO IMPLICATED

Nazis Say Captive Britons Connected With Bomb Plot—Gestapo Head Accused

BERLIN, Nov. 22 (P).—German authorities today accused two captured British subjects of direct connection with the Munich bomb plot which Adolf Hitler escaped by eleven minutes on November 8.

Nazi officials said the two men, described by them as British Secret Service agents, were responsible jointly with two other men for the bombing. The explosion killed eight persons shortly after Hitler left the Munich beer hall.

CAPTURED AT FRONTIER

Otto Strasser, a German, long-time enemy of Hitler who lives in France, and Georg Elser, of Munich, were blamed with the two Britons, who the Nazis say were captured at The Netherlands frontier the day after the explosion.

They were identified by the Gestapo as Captain Richard Henry Stevens, forty-two, chief of the European division of the British Secret Service, and Sigismund Payne Best, fifty-four, an intelligence officer of the British General Staff during the Great War.

Heinrich Himmler, chief of the Gestapo, said Elser had confessed setting the beer hall time bomb.

BLAMES GESTAPO CHIEF
PARIS, Nov. 22 (CP-Havas).—Otto Strasser, exiled Nazi opponent of Adolf Hitler who was officially accused of organizing the Munich bombing, today accused Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler of planting the bomb himself.

"The Munich attempt on the Fuehrer's life was organized by Himmler," Strasser told a correspondent.

WOMAN HEADS CALGARY POLLS

Mrs. Rose Wilkinson, Social Credit, Leads in Aldermanic Contest

CALGARY, Nov. 22 (P).—Alderman Mrs. Rose Wilkinson, Social Credit representative on the city council for the past four years, in today's aldermanic elections became the first woman to head the polls.

All four of the civic government and taxpayers' association candidates were elected on the first count—setting an all-time record for the number returned to office on the first count under the city's proportional representation system of voting.

Elected on the first count were: Alderman Rose Wilkinson, 3,159; Alderman J. C. Mahaffy, 2,929; Alderman H. R. Chauncey, 2,883; Alderman R. H. Weir, 2,869; and Alderman E. A. McCullough, 2,740.

The quota for election was 2,557 votes.

Only 20,454 votes were cast in an election which was one of the quietest in many years. This was the lowest total vote since 1932.

Ballot counters were deciding who would be elected to the remaining two seats late tonight.

Thirty Injured in Car Collision

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22 (P).—Thirty persons were injured, two of them seriously, when two street cars collided at a downtown street intersection during the heavy traffic hour today.

A crowded Los Angeles railway car coasted through a traffic signal as its brakes failed and it crashed into the street car, and crashed into the side of a Pacific Electric car on Figueroa Street.

NINE NAZI PLANES SHOT DOWN BY BRITISH AND FRENCH FORCES

From Europe Day by Day—THE TIMES, London

Years and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1939, by Southern Co.)

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Punishment for "Pierrot" is how The Times sums up the Chamberlain Cabinet's decision to seize, by way of reprisal against Germany's sea murder campaign, all goods of German origin found in neutral ships.

Already in Holland this decision is described as "a terrible blow" to Dutch trade, but The Times says it is the only possible reply to the ruthless violation of sea law which the Germans have chosen to perpetuate, and which, after their first glib denials, they now boastfully and gleefully admit.

The laying of mines in trade routes without warning is contrary to the dictates of international law and common humanity. Neutrals, so far, have been the worst sufferers. Berlin newspapers are delighted at the thought that the seas around Britain are now unsafe, but have not a thought to spare for the plunge to death which this new Nazi barbarity has caused women, children and unarmed men.

Showing how the seizure of German goods in neutral vessels will affect Germany's chances in the war, The Times says it will prevent her exporting coal, chemicals and manufactured goods and withhold from her essential imports.

In effect, the blockade of Germany will become as stringent as it is possible to make it.

Dealing with the terrorism in Prague, The Times says the Gestapo invaded men and women students' colleges and without allowing them to dress, tied them in threes and dragged them to prison. They also entered classrooms and arrested teachers as well as many boys and girls. All were taken to barracks and the Spartakus stadium.

Cold water was thrown over them and at evening 124 students were shot.

The first nine to die by German bullet were heads of students' associations who had committed no offense but were executed merely as an act of terrorism.

All German boys in Prague of fifteen and upwards are now armed with revolvers for use against the Czechs. Czech students released from prison in some cases have been disabled for life by the Gestapo's brutality.

Bass Song By Convict Best Liked

MOUNDSVILLE, W.Va., Nov. 22 (P).—A convict who sang "Asleep in the Deep" in low, booming voice won the heaviest applause today at the opening matinee of the "Pen Revue," a show without showgirls or box office worries.

The 1,000 convicts who gathered in the auditorium of the West Virginia penitentiary for the performance liked the songs the best, but also cheered a roller skating act and an Apache dance.

The all-convict revue now in its thirty-fifth year, opened with an overture, "If I Had the Wings of an Angel."

Britain Sending Thousands of Men Each Week to Reinforce Original Expeditionary Force in France—Activity Is Everywhere Visible

LONDON, Nov. 22 (P).—It is a war of endurance, with time on the side of the Allies, Leslie Hore-Belisha, Secretary for War, told the House of Commons when reporting on the general military situation today.

"Every day that passes finds us stronger," the War Minister declared. "On the economy of the enemy the passage of time has not the same effect. To win he would have to break through the Allied defences. An assault upon these is awaited with confidence by the French Supreme Commander (General Gamelin)."

"On our side we can afford to choose our opportunity. There is no discussion in our ranks. There are no conflicting councils. Our

Eight Aircraft Destroyed in Aerial Combat—Seaplane at Moorings in Shetland Islands Set Afire in Raid by Six Bombers—Attack Witnessed by School Children

Scottish Ferryboat Escapes Damage in Hail of Bombs

PARIS, Nov. 23 (CP-Havas).—A German plane attempting to fly over Southeastern England was shot down late last night, bringing the total number of Nazi aircraft destroyed by the Allies on Wednesday to nine.

Early this morning another Nazi plane, flying high over Paris, was driven off by anti-aircraft fire. Screaming sirens sent residents of the capital scurrying to shelters at 12:10 a.m. (4:10 p.m., P.S.T.). The all-clear signal was given at 1:15 a.m.

A British Air Ministry communiqué issued in connection with an attempted flight over Southeastern England said:

"Last night enemy aircraft approached the southeast coast. Anti-aircraft guns opened fire and Royal Air Force fighters were sent to intercept them. One enemy aircraft was shot down into the sea by anti-aircraft fire. A second aircraft was engaged and driven off by our fighters."

UNSUCCESSFUL FLIGHTS

Seven other German planes were reported downed in aerial combat and the eighth by anti-aircraft fire after the Nazis had made unsuccessful flights over the Western Front, the British naval base in the Shetland Islands and English coastal areas.

One of the attacks on the Shetland Islands was launched from an altitude of less than 1,000 feet, while the streets of the island towns were thronged with children on their noon school recess, reports reaching here said.

A Royal Air Force seaplane moored in one of the many bays of the Shetlands was set afire by a

NAZIS IRKED AT NEW BLOCKADE

Germans Seeking to Justify Mine Action—Threaten Swift Retaliation

BERLIN, Nov. 22 (P).—German officials challenged a British declaration that the Nazi submarine weapon had been felled. They said Great Britain's unrestricted blockade of German exports would bring swift retaliation.

Authorized sources described British announcement yesterday of an intensified blockade against Germany as "a clumsy attempt to give the cloak of morality to a new form of piracy whereby neutral shipping will be endangered and vital neutral interests hit."

They said there would be immediate German counter-measures, but declined to say what form they might take.

SAY CONDUCT JUSTIFIED

Nazi authorities claimed their conduct of sea warfare was justified, saying the British paved the way by putting shipping lanes under military protection and introducing the warship convoy system.

As a result of British action, they asserted that "in shipping to England, trade routes no longer exist."

"The English can not allege that under the Hague agreement (of 1907) the laying of mines before enemy coasts and harbors is forbidden," the authorities said.

"In such case, notice of a danger zone, according to the Hague agreement, does not become a question before the military purpose is accomplished. Naturally, the British have a right to protect their territorial waters against enemy penetration."

FLOOD WATERS AT ZEBALLOS RECEDE

Residents of Privateer Flats Return to Homes for Third Time In Week

ZEBALLOS, Nov. 22 (P).—The Zeballos River, which kept residents of Privateer Flats, four miles from here, on the jump for an entire week, showed signs tonight of settling down to its normal level.

Most of the seventy families who fled their homes in the little mining settlement three times during the week as the river surged up and down, returned today. Others waited for the buildings to dry out further.

The entire region around this gold-mining centre suffered from the floods, which began on November 14 after torrential rains. Many settlers on low-lying ground had to run for higher ground, but the only mass evacuation was at Privateer Flats, from which residents were removed in trucks and boats.

School by Radio Test Described for House As Estimates Proceed

British Columbia Legislature Hears of First Extensive Trial of Plan in Canada Being Conducted Here—Departmental Votes Are Ratified

BRITISH Columbia, making one of the first experimental uses of radio lessons in public schools to be adopted in Canada, is finding increasing success for that work, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir told the Provincial Legislature last evening, as the House proceeded with estimates for the coming year.

Votes in the Departments of Education, Municipal Affairs, and other branches of the service were ratified, before the House adjourned, until 2:30 p.m. today. From present expectations of party whips, the session may conclude about the middle of next week.

Dealing with radio classes, now provided over station CBRT in Vancouver on a definite schedule, Dr. Weir said the Carnegie Foundation had donated $2,500 to the work. Methods of teaching applicable to radio were being worked out, with improvements coming as experience was gained in the work.

Responding to other questions, the Minister of Education said curriculum revision was still under way, and that all suggestions would be welcomed by the revision committee, operating under the Department of Education. Maladjustments in the present schools system came from decentralization, with a trend towards larger school areas, and centralization of control, he declared.

EDUCATION

Estimates in the Department of Education call for $4,068,805, compared with $4,282,051 in the year previous. Of this sum, $780,000 is for statutory advances to rural schools against their taxes, and listed as recoverable. Grants in aid of teachers' salaries are increased by $95,000 to $2,370,000.

Chief items include: Salary grants, $2,370,000; University of British Columbia, $426,350; miscellaneous votes, $244,640; school buildings, $165,000; inspection of schools, $113,584; textbooks, $62,000; textbook branch, token vote of $10; general office, $27,950; correspondence schools, $59,373; industrial education, $60,190; normal schools, $38,627; school for the deaf and the blind, $95,531.

Use of the other gear may be mastered after one day's instruction. Observers here considered it likely they eventually would be offered to neutral shipping by the Admiralty.

London circles believed that these precautions, abetted perhaps by some device especially constructed to deal with electro-magnetic mines, will considerably reduce the effect of the German weapon.

ACTIVITY AND MUD

The War Minister, who returned earlier this week from an extended tour of the British and French sectors of the Western Front, summed up his impressions in one sentence: "Everywhere there is activity, everywhere there is mud."

He described the construction of defence works along the British sector and the preparations for any eventualities along the 800-mile defensive line.

"We had 158,200 men in France when I last spoke to this House," he said. "Since then some thousands each week have followed them."

"By interposing a delay of several weeks, the Poles facilitated concentration of the French Army, and during this time the British Army was also assembling in its positions. It would be a mistake to suppose that the resistance then offered by the Poles was the last stand to be made by valiant action in these hostilities."

Already at this moment, the Polish Army is being reconstituted on friendly soil, and the cause which they are so resolute to vindicate attracts like magnet their countrymen from all parts of the world.

"This is a fortress war. Everywhere there is activity and everywhere there is mud. An organization of almost inconceivably great dimensions has been established, a world within a world."

PERMANENT WORKS

The War Secretary announced that replacement bases have been established in France for the British Army, that new locomotives will be sent from Great Britain and the permanent railway lines will be laid out.

"But it is still a question of vehicles, vehicles and more vehicles," he said. "We have already sent to France over 1,000 tons of spare parts and accessories."

Concerning home defences, he said: "Our anti-aircraft coast defences remain continually manned by personnel whose conditions of service in many cases are as hard and more lonely than those in France, and whose duty is as important."

We have taken, besides the militia classes called up—over 50,000 voluntary recruits since the war began. He went on to pay tribute to the women's auxiliaries, and added: "Those in munition factories are doing equally valuable work, for on them depends the speed with which additional contingents can participate in the war theatre."

"It is a war of endurance, a quality for which the British people is renowned."

General Abe Is Killed in War in China

PEIPING, Nov. 22 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Morihide Abe was killed in action southwest of here, near Paotingfu, on November 7. Japanese army headquarters said today.

He was the first Japanese division commander lost in the present war, though Japan has lost other generals in the fighting.

Abe was struck by a trench mortar shell while leading a detachment to the relief of a beleaguered regiment.

CAMPAIGN IS NEARING END

Community Chest and Red Cross Joint Collection Results Total $88,297.79

The Community Chest and Red Cross joint campaign, now within two days of its official closing, has resulted in pledges and actual subscriptions totaling $88,297.79 of the $100,000 which was the objective set for the joint campaigns this year.

Canvassers are still active in all divisions, especially those divisions which have not yet attained their objective, and although the official closing of the campaign is set for tomorrow night, many workers will be out "mopping up" for some days to come.

The several divisions have turned in the following totals to date: "A" Division (G. H. Stevens), $33,665.50; objective $61,000; "B" Division (W. Martin), $6,429.03; objective $8,000; "C" Division (Miss Sara Spencer), $20,237.76; objective $18,000; "D" Division (J. H. Wilson), $4,033.50; objective $6,000; "E" Division (E. G. Rowebottom), $3,932.10; objective $7,000.

A reminder was issued from campaign headquarters yesterday that "A" Division includes the names of special higher income people and large organizations; "B" Division covers the business section; "C" Division the residential; "D" Division the industrial parts of the city; and "E" Division the public services such as the Provincial and Dominion Government, city, municipal and educational officials, and the army and navy.

International Border More Clearly Shown As Aid for Aviators

Survey Branch of Federal Government Completes New Map for Canadian Air Force Pilots—United States and Canada Co-operating

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (C).—Since Canadian warplanes cannot fly over United States territory while this Dominion is a belligerent, the survey branch of the Mines and Resources Department has just completed a rush job on a new map with the international border clearly marked for Air Force pilots flying from Central Canada to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Survey crews have been busy clearing brush from the border between Quebec and Maine and between New Brunswick and Maine. A swathe from twenty-five to forty feet wide will make the 293 miles of border separating Quebec from Maine clearly visible from the air; the New Brunswick-Maine line, which extends 323 miles, will be similarly cleared. Only seventy-eight miles of the latter border is on land, rivers, lakes and streams providing natural dividing lines for the remainder of the distance.

THROUGH WILDERNESS
About fifteen miles of the Quebec-Maine border have been cleared in recent weeks, and the work will continue in the Spring, pushing steadily through country that for the most part is a wilderness of bush, rolling hills, brule and muskeg. Seven-foot iron shafts and concrete pillars mark off the border, and the clearing of underbrush on the international line is an enterprise shared with the United States authorities over the entire 5,000 miles of borderline from Atlantic to Pacific.

Sections of border more accessible from the United States are cleared by United States survey crews with a Canadian engineer as observer. United States engineers similarly co-operate with Canadian in clearing sections more easily reached from Canadian territory.

Border patrols have been increased now that Canada is at war, and the border lane is expected to be of assistance in curbing illegal entry into Canada and smuggling.

REEVE LOCKLEY TO RUN AGAIN

Municipal Election in Esquimalt on December 16 Appears Unlikely

REEVE ALEX LOCKLEY

Possibility of Esquimalt ratepayers being saved the cost of an election on December 16 seemed favorable last night with the apparent lack of contestants to oppose present incumbents.

Reeve Alex Lockley will seek his fifth consecutive term as head of the municipal council, with no one in the field to oppose him at this date.

Of the three retiring councillors, Thomas Hadfield, R. G. Humphreys and R. G. Guillemaud, the latter was the only member who was undecided as to whether he would seek re-election.

Councillor Hadfield said that at the present time he had every intention of again running for office. Councillor Humphreys said he was coming out again because he felt it was a good policy to have a member of the militia on the council, as Esquimalt was a naval and military station.

SCHOOL BOARD
Two of the retiring members of the school board declined to state last night, whether they would seek a return to office. They were the chairman, Major A. A. Warder and Reeve Lockley. Trustee J. P. A. Christensen stated that he did not wish to contest his seat again as his duties as a councillor kept him busy.

There will be one vacancy on the police commission this year when Charles H. Smith, elected for a one-year term in a by-election, completes his tenure of office.

headed by Premier Daladier and including all the interested ministers. The purpose of this committee is to co-ordinate France's war economy and to transmit programmes and plans from the various departments concerned to the Allied economic executive, which will draft the joint Anglo-French programmes of action.

An official communique recalled that on September 29 Premier Daladier and Prime Minister Chamberlain "decided to co-ordinate the economic and financial policies of the two countries."

RESIDED HERE FORTY YEARS

Mrs. Maria Lugin, Widow of Charles H. Lugin, Is Taken by Death

There passed away early yesterday morning at the family residence, Old West Farm, Saanich, Mrs. Maria Lugin, widow of Charles H. Lugin, who was for many years editor of The Daily Colonist.

She was born in Grand Falls, New Brunswick, the daughter of George Luther Wellington Raymond, whose family formerly owned estates on Staten Island, New York, and who took up land grants on the Upper Saint John River, which eventually became an area populated almost entirely by United Empire Loyalists whose sons distinguished themselves in the Loyalist Army in the War of Independence. Mrs. Lugin had memories of her uncles in the uniforms of the Loyalist Army.

She had lived in Victoria and surrounding districts for the past forty years, and for many years the family lived on Esquimalt Road. Mrs. Lugin was well known in her younger days as a charming hostess, but for the past ten years has led a retired life among the members of her family.

She is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Nathaniel Shaw, Vancouver; Mrs. E. Brunswick Shaw, Victoria; Mrs. Wendell H. Shaw, Portland, at present visiting in Victoria; Mrs. J. M. Fahy, Toronto, and the Misses Nellie and Louise Lugin at home; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon.

spondent today. "I have just received formal proof through a member of the party who is deeply devoted to me. The whole project was planned by Himmler himself. He told Hess (Rudolf Hess, Hitler deputy in the party) that he needed an attempted assassination in order to unleash a 'campaign of hate' against Great Britain and also to have a pretext for dealing with internal enemies, especially members of the Black Front."

The Black Front is Strasser's organization which broke from the Nazi party in 1934 after the blood purge, in which Georg Strasser, his brother, was murdered. Both Strassers were among the founders of the Nazi party.

NINE PLANES SHOT DOWN BY ALLIES

bomb dropped by the attacking planes, all six naval units escaped and there were no casualties. CRASHES IN BELGIUM
One of the Nazi planes shot down on the Western Front was a Heinkel bomber, which crashed in Belgian territory. The type of a second Nazi plane apparently shot down by R.A.F. flyers in this battle was not disclosed.

Three Messerschmidt fighters were shot down by French combat planes near Strasbourg, Werth and Remerig. Another enemy aircraft—type unknown—was brought down by French fighters in the same area, and a fourth Messerschmidt was shot down by French anti-aircraft batteries north of Sedan.

The eighth plane was a Dornier reconnaissance bomber sent down by French flyers near Nancy. The pilot of the Dornier was uninjured and taken prisoner.

FRENCH LOSE TWO PLANES
Two French planes were reported lost in the Strasbourg area, where five Messerschmidts have been shot down in forty-eight hours. Two French flyers were said to have parachuted to safety, but one was killed when his parachute failed to open.

According to accounts reaching here, eye-witnesses of the German attack on the Shetland Islands said six German bombers participated in the raid. They flew so low the strained faces of the crews could be seen at the windows of the planes. As soon as the planes were sighted anti-aircraft guns opened fire and exploding shells could be seen all around the raiders.

MARCH INTO SHELTERS

It was estimated 700 children were on the streets at the time of the attack. They marched into air-raid shelters and remained there until the raid was over.

The crew of the Royal Air Force seaplane was aboard when it was set afire. All except one of the men were picked up by a boat. The one who missed the boat had to swim half a mile to shore.

After their attack on the seaplane, the Nazi flyers turned their attention to a little ferryboat plying between the islands. Scores of bombs were dumped on all sides of the tiny craft and for a few moments it bobbed around like a cork in the choppy foam. But none of the missiles scored hits.

TWO SHARP THURSTS

LONDON, Nov. 22 (C).—German air raiders bombed the Shetland Islands today and set fire to a Royal Air Force seaplane in two sharp thrusts.

A raid warning was sounded in the Shetlands this morning. An unsuccessful attack made on shipping in this area. The attack driven off by anti-aircraft fire, a British communique stated.

"The enemy then attacked with bombs a Royal Air Force seaplane lying at its moorings and set it on fire. We suffered no casualties."

SAVED FROM NORTH SEA

The Government announced three German flyers who piloted a reconnaissance plane to the eastern outskirts of London on Monday had been rescued from a rubber boat in the North Sea and taken prisoner. Two were said to be badly wounded. Previously it had been reported simply the craft had been driven out to sea. Yesterday a German

CENSORSHIP AND WAR EFFORT

Censorship in a democracy means the granting of a temporary extraordinary power which, in its essence, is inconsistent with that form of government. Thus it constitutes a danger to democracy, though it must be admitted that it is an expedient necessary in such a time of crisis as now exists. Censorship, however, can go to extremes by attempting to exclude the obvious from public knowledge. It can even reach a stage of such over-officiousness as putting a ban on publicity of a character that is desirable to encourage the people to put forward their best war effort. It is the case in this Dominion that the people only know in a generalized way what the country is doing as a whole. In many instances the state of words issued from Ottawa belies instead of enlightening the situation.

Presumably censorship is responsible for affording no information of why recruiting in this country has been suspended, except so far as the Air Force is concerned. Nothing is known of the Second Division for overseas service, which it was announced would be assembled. Lack of information in such particulars tends to breed a conviction in the public mind that the country is not doing all that its part in the war requires. There is a decision to make Canada an Empire air training centre, but as yet there is no knowledge of the airdromes and buildings and other permanent equipment being provided. There is no new programme for the increased manufacture of the airplanes necessary for this plan. The statement has been made that the air training centre plan will involve an expenditure of $300,000,000 in its first year. No one seems to know when the first year will start.

It is not criticism of the Government's war effort to ask to what extent that effort is developing. Censorship is to blame, because the people only know about it in a vague way. They are entitled to more information, and such would be in no way give comfort to the enemy or interfere with the prosecution of war plans. The point is that where there is lack of knowledge of what the country is doing there is public suspicion that will arise, that has already arisen, about the character of what is being done, or what is being left undone. There are two maladies from which censorship can suffer. One is self-sufficiency and the other is over-officiousness. The Government at Ottawa should step in and re-define the duties of censorship so that they may become more consonant with the purposes and aims of a democratic people, by allowing the people to learn what they have every right to know as the paymasters of the country's war effort.

SEIZING GERMAN EXPORTS

Since the outbreak of war, Germany has been actively engaged in attempts to increase her export trade. Her goods for abroad, beyond the Baltic Sea, now have to be carried in neutral ships, since her own merchant marine has been driven off the oceans. Her efforts to improve her export trade have not been successful because of the Anglo-French blockade, which has cut off the enemy from many of the raw materials necessary to her manufacturing. Thus Germany, circumscribed in manufacturing, has been losing orders, and this fact, in turn, has led to the holding up of supplies from neutral countries adjacent to the Reich because of difficulties over payment.

Now Great Britain and France are going to tighten the economic blockade by seizing sea-borne exports of German origin and ownership. That will mean that her overseas trade will be strangled, unless the enemy can devise some method to elude cargo seizures. The intensification of the blockade to be practised by the Allied Powers will take some months to reach its full operation. Great Britain, however, in the process has key positions that will prove of great service. German exports can be stopped, not only in the waters of the United Kingdom but at Gibraltar, the Suez, at several points on the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans, and in the Orient and in African waters. The plan may well prove a method of shortening the duration of the war, since Germany will suffer both economically and financially.

IN THEIR OWN WAYS

Mr. St. John Ervine, the well-known writer, has given somewhat of a "tongue lashing" to those people who claim they do not know what the war aims of the British Empire. "The implication of their inquiry as to war aims," says Mr. Ervine, "is less innocent than it appears to be; they suggest that if they do not know what we are fighting for, we ought not to be fighting at all. Some of them, a year ago, were grossly abusing the Prime Minister because he was striving, as no man in the history of the world has ever striven before, to avert the war, but today, appalled, perhaps, by the prospect of being themselves drawn into the slaughter for which they clamored so loudly, they crawl and creep about the country, trying to cool like sucking doves that once were screaming like carrion crows."

Mr. Ervine does not merely criticize; he presents the case for the war. "We are fighting," he says, "against the continual threat or performance of aggressive acts and the recurrence of periods of anxiety and distress. . . . We are fighting for the right to keep the civilization we have created, and the right to extend it and make it a better civilization. We are here highly resolved that any system of society which involves the persecution and robbery and murder of dissentients from the rule or opinions of the party in power is a wicked system and one that cannot be endured. Even if the disturber of the peace does no more than make an incessant row in his own backyard, we claim the right to restrain him on the ground that we can neither sleep, nor work, nor think because of his din. When the people of Lystra tried to make gods of Barnabas and Paul, the apostles vehemently protested against their own deification, saying: 'Sirs, why do ye use these things? We also are men of like passions with you,' and they added to this protest a remark which is, I think, the plainest and most concise statement of what we are fighting for. God, they said, had in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways. The Nazis, like their little brothers, the Communists, will not allow other nations to walk in any ways but theirs, and it is to prevent them from fulfilling their foul and felonious intent that we are fighting. We desire, and are determined to obtain, that state of existence in which 'all nations may walk in their own ways.'"

LEGAL CASUALTY

There is much casuistry in modern-day legislation. Seemingly warplanes, built in the United States for countries now engaged in war, may not be delivered by flight. Such flight would "constitute an armed expedition," even though the warplanes would be unarmed. They may be carried by truck, or railway, or by boat, to their destination, but may not be flown. Surely this is straining at a gnat. Arms and munitions can be carried from the United States to belligerent nations in armed merchantmen, but that, seemingly, does not constitute an armed expedition. They can be carried in ships of the United States which have changed their registry for the occasion. It is lawful for the United States to carry on trade in the paraphernalia of war with countries engaged in war, but in the delivery of unarmed airplanes they must be carried by some means, not flown. To the lay observer, who follows the dictates of common sense, the decision seems to imply a distinction without a difference.

NAVICERT

The Navicert system to be introduced by Great Britain as a war measure is not new. It was in use in the Great War. Its purpose is to eliminate a proportion of the contraband control at British ports, while it will also facilitate bona fide trade between neutral ports, and particularly in the trade of countries adjacent to Germany. The Navicert is a commercial passport for a particular consignment. The system is explained as consisting in the issue by British missions abroad of certificates covering shipments in respect of which satisfactory evidence has been produced, before they are dispatched, that they are not destined for the enemy. That will obviate the lengthy examination of cargoes at British ports. The system is to be introduced gradually, and at first will probably be limited to certain types of goods and certain countries.

CLOUDS

Because a million voices call
Across the earth, distractedly
Because the thrones of reason fall
And beautiful battalions die,
My mind is like a nadirial
Played on a lute long since put by.
In common use my mind is still
Eager for every lovely thing—
The solitude of lam and hill,
Bright birds with honest to sing,
Bluebells and primroses that spill
Cascades of color on the spring.
But now my mind that gave to these Creature and shape, color and song,
Goes hesitant and ill at ease,
And the old truth is true and long,
Because the continents and seas
Are loud with lamentable wrong.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Though it received little notice at the time on this side of the water, to France goes the honor of making a successful non-stop flight between Paris and Rio de Janeiro in a sealed plane and above the oxygen limit of man. This, a practical test of sub-sonic levels above the ocean, was the forerunner of a direct Paris to New York service for next year. Though the test was conducted secretly, the results were published in the Paris press on November 11, and relayed in abbreviated form to this continent. The machine used was a "Canille" French airplane, named after a noted French aviator, with Captain Henri Guillaumet and Lieutenant Paul Codo, pilots, and Paul Comet, navigator, and Jacques Neri, radio operator, on board. Rio de Janeiro, midway down the east coast of South America, where that continent narrows sharply, is linked with New York by established air lines.

of certainty. . . . Certain it is, however, that in war or in peace, the world has shrunk, that all nations are now neighbors; and that, in the long pull, good will come of that. To know a man or a nation is to understand them; and to understand them is to go halfway towards meeting them in a civil way of life.

Friendly Province
British Columbia's exhibit at the San Francisco Exposition gave the province invaluable publicity, as evinced by the following extract from a prominent Californian's letter to a Government official: "I am sure British Columbia was well represented in everything. You folks made friends with all visitors, for your exhibits were both beautiful and dignified. I, myself, am sure it was the most attractive exhibit in the Hall of Western States." "S. J. I was wanted to borrow $25. Do you think he is good for that amount?" a brother farmer asked the Keating Squire. "Oh,

Historic Greenwich Observatory to Be Established in New Location

Historic Greenwich Observatory, marking the zero meridian from which all measurement of time is taken, is shortly to be removed to a locality of greater safety. Already the lenses of the great telescopes and other vital parts of the instruments used by the observatory have been removed and stored away from the menace of air raids, and the astronomical work of the observatory is now practically at a standstill.

These were facts mentioned by Dr. C. S. Beals, of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory staff, in the course of an address to the Victoria centre of the Royal Astronomical Society in the Y.W.C.A. Building last night. The subject of the address was the astrophysical conference held in Paris earlier this year under the sponsorship of the Singer-Pollnac Foundation.

Dr. Beals gave a review of some of the important astronomical problems and phenomena discussed at the conference, with notes on the prominent European and American astronomers who took part, and many lantern slides, most of them in color, of points of interest in France, Switzerland, Holland and England.

Fatally Hurt in Logging Accident

Senkichi Ikeda, Japanese, died yesterday morning in Duncan Hospital from injuries received in a logging accident at the Hillcrest Lumber Company on Tuesday. He was thirty-nine years of age.

Ikeda was employed as a buckyer by Jack Inoué, Japanese contractor at the Hillcrest camp. He was hurt when struck by a flying snag.

An inquest into his death will be held at Duncan today at 7 p.m.

Eyewitness Tells Story Of Athenia

An eyewitness story of the sinking of the Athenia by Mrs. C. Garvie, one of the survivors of the disaster, was listened to with intense interest by members of the Soroptimist Club at the regular monthly dinner meeting of the society held Tuesday night at "The Wishbone," Yates Street.

Miss Marjorie Holmes, president of the club, presided, and sixteen members and guests attended. Mrs. B. M. Clark was nominated to attend, as the Soroptimists' representative, the Ventura Club meeting to be held the first Wednesday in December. Miss Dora Atkins and Miss Doris Holmes were appointed as representatives of the club to attend a meeting of the Service Clubs' Council to be held in the near future to consider matters of mutual interest.

Funeral Services for Pioneer Victorian Held Yesterday Afternoon

Many friends attended the funeral of Samuel John Waldron, held yesterday afternoon from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Rev. Arthur Bischofberger conducted the services, and the hymn "Abide With Me" was sung.

The Victoria city police were represented by Chief J. A. McLellan, Inspector Jack Rogers, Sergeant Sydney Wilkinson and ex-Sergeant James Florence. Detective Henry Jarvis represented the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association, of which society the deceased had been a member.

Members of the Naval Veterans Branch, Canadian Legion, acted as pallbearers. They were Donald Kellow, A. G. Scudamore, J. McCay, P. L. Elliott, D. Thompson, D. O'Brien and H. R. Dawe, who represented the president. Interment was made in the Colwood Burial Park.

BORN IN LONDON

Mr. Waldron, who was seventy-nine years of age, came here in 1888 from his birthplace, London. He received his discharge from the Royal Navy and was one of the first conductors on the B.C. Electric Railway. After about twelve years he and Mrs. Waldron went north to Dawson, returning later to Victoria, where he served in the city maintenance department, and was also active in the hotel and timber business. He was for many years janitor at the city police offices.

He retired about 1923 and had been an invalid prior to his death last Saturday at the family residence, 161 Little Eton Place, Saanich. Last year he published the story of his life locally.

MRS. MCGREGOR ENTERS FIELD

Will Seek City Council Seat On December 14 for Eleventh Time

Mrs. Alice McGregor announced last night that she would again seek a seat on the Victoria City Council. She is the second person to announce intention of running for office. Alderman B. J. Gadsden, having previously stated that, he would be competing at the polls on December 14.

Last evening Mrs. McGregor issued the following statement:

"The fact that Victoria electors have not let me down these ten years when asking support at the polls is reason enough why I should again offer myself for election.

"There are many good reasons why a woman should be in this office, one instance I might recall, and which indeed few have forgotten, was the mutilation and desecration by a bandy-tent show last summer of one of our city-owned parks, by permission of the Mayor and council.

"I don't think this could have happened had there been a woman alderman. There are also many city departments where a woman would be most helpful. Again, the thousands of women ratepayers are entitled to representation by one of their own sex to whom they might go freely for information, etc.

"In asking support at the polls on December 14, I do so with a feeling of confidence the electorate is going to stand by and play the game. All I ask is to be given the opportunity to serve and can't promise to do my best."

Women's Clubs Called "Baloney"

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22 (AP).—Author Theodore Dreiser isn't afraid of the ladies.

He stood before 300 members of the Los Angeles Junior League and said "women's clubs are baloney."

Members gasped.

"From an intellectual, social and economic angle, I say again that all women's clubs are baloney. There should be more to a woman's club than just planting graves and placing plaques."

What, a heater asked, is he doing at the moment?

"I am writing a book of philosophy."

"Is it about women?"

"Darling," he retorted, "without women there would be no need for philosophy."

English Schoolgirls Write Impressions About Voyage

Delayed for Nearly Two Months in Toronto Owing To Submarine Menace, Some Girls Now Home In England, Others Are Still in Canada

From the Overseas Education League, Toronto, information has been received here of what happened to the fifty-three English schoolgirls who visited here last August under the auspices of the League. The girls were to have sailed for England early in September, but owing to the sinking of the Athenia they postponed their departure and, after exchange of many cables with parents in the Old Land, were placed temporarily in Eastern Canadian schools and colleges. After nearly two months in Toronto, about half the group has returned to England, where they were accompanied by Major Fred Ney. The remainder of the girls are remaining indefinitely in Toronto.

The girls who returned to England said, in their reports to Toronto, that they were treated marvelously by the ship. Major Ney reports that the girls' behavior throughout the voyage was splendid, and he was very proud of them. Miss Watson, secretary at the League headquarters, Toronto, writes that some of the girls who have stayed behind in Canada attending university have formed a Red Cross unit and are busy with sweaters and other woolly comforts for the airmen and brothers who have been called into service.

Attached are some excerpts of a letter from Ray Laws, Edgewood, England, one of the girls who returned home early in November:

"Our sailing was rather sad and dismal, as no one except our secretary and a few dockyard hands were allowed to be on the quay as we steamed slowly out. The boat was camouflaged with black and grey paint, giving it a very dull appearance. Heavy blankets hung across all outer doors, and portholes were blackened so as to let no light escape. As the lights of the Chateau Frontenac and those along the Dufferin Terrace faded into the distance, we felt our last grasp of Canada slipping from under us."

The voyage was without event, she continued, except that they had to turn back once off the coast of Newfoundland on sighting an unidentified ship. The spirit of all on board was marvelous, especially at night, when you could hardly see more than six inches. All the passengers made the best of it and saw the funny side of it, such as bumping into sandbags and apologizing to them."

RESPONSE TREMENDOUS

Another comment testifying to the spirit of the girls: "The captain asked for volunteers to help with the submarine and aircraft watches, and the response was tremendous. Before we landed we were all provided with gas masks. Our first glimpse of Liverpool was the balloon barrage flying high in the sky."

"At 12 o'clock on Saturday we separated—each to our home and to tell of the wonderful time we spent in Canada and the kindness of all its people. The generosity of the Canadians was continued by the captain of the liner and his crew. They gave us a special dinner on board, and they had a special ice cake with fifty-four candles to celebrate our crossing the Atlantic."

Being on close duty, the crew could not give the usual concert, so the girls gave a concert themselves, composing songs for the occasion, one to the tune of "Tipperary," another to the tune of "Early One Morning," and both happily topical in their reference to German U-boats, the Munich pact and Hitler's disregard of his promises, the invasion of Poland, etc.

WOMAN NOVELIST DIES

LONDON, Nov. 22 (CP)—Mrs. Louise Reynolds (Mrs. G. M. Robins), author of more than forty novels, died here today. Mrs. Reynolds was president of the Society of Woman Journalists in 1913 and head of the Writers' Club in 1911, 1919 and 1929.

To Be Married in Panama

MISS MIRIAM BIGGIN

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Biggin, 2511 Cranmore Road, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Miriam Sargent, to Mr. Adolfo E. Samudio, son of the late Mr. R. E. Samudio and Mrs. Samudio, Panama City, where the wedding will take place on December 20. After the marriage, the bride and groom will make their home at Kingston, Jamaica, where Mr. Samudio is consul-general for Panama.

Clubs and Societies

Cheminus W.A.

The regular meeting of the Mission Circle of the Baptist Church, Cheminus, was held at the home of Mrs. Dufour. It was arranged for the White Cross bazaar to be held at the Jackson Avenue Baptist Mission on December 10. Arrangements were made to hold an open prayer meeting and program on November 29. Mrs. Bristow reported that new missionaries going to India included Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Barsa, Misses Timpany and Miss Hart. Misses Timpany and Dr. Barsa were born in India, and are returning there as workers. An interesting paper was given by Miss V. Davis. Other items on the program included a poem by Mrs. James Wynne and a quartette by Queen, Hilda, Gertrude, Robinson, Joyce, McInnis and Peggy Roy. Tea was served by Mrs. Dufour. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. Patterson.

Knox W.A.

The monthly meeting of the Young Women's Auxiliary of Knox Presbyterian Church was held at the home of Miss Theima Dopp, Lee Avenue, on Tuesday evening. The result of the birthday tea held was gratifying. Arrangements were made for the December meeting, at which a Christmas tree, with presents for each member, will be the main feature of the evening. To be held at the home of Miss McPhail, 2641 Forbes Street, on December 19. On invitation of the Women's Missionary Society, the members of the auxiliary were invited to attend their thanksgiving meeting to be held on December 4 at the home of Mrs. McKinnon, Lansdowne Road, which was kindly accepted. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Georgian Chorists

Members of the Georgian Chorists enjoyed a pleasant evening when, following their practice meeting this week, they had a social time and musical programme. Among those taking part were Mrs. J. V. Weston, and Mrs. H. C. Gull, who gave vocal solos, and Mrs. W. B. Chadwick, who gave recitations. Mrs. H. Leggett was in charge of the games and contests, the prize winners being Mrs. C. Williams and Mrs. T. Hardy. Mrs. Georgina Watt, conductor of the choir, was chairman of the proceedings, and the refreshments were served by the executive members.

Y.W.C.A. Party

A "December Frolic" will be sponsored by club girls of the Y.W.C.A. on Tuesday, December 5, from 8:30 to 12 o'clock. A buffet supper will be served and tickets may be secured at the Y.M.C.A. or Y.W.C.A. Plans are under way for the annual Y.W.-Y.M. New Year's Eve festivities. This year's function will include a musical programme from 10 to 11:15 o'clock, followed by a buffet supper and dancing from 12 until 2 o'clock. Further details will be announced later.

Daughters of Nile

There were twenty-four tables in play at the Daughters of Nile bridge-tee held at 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday at Spencer's dining-room. Winners were as follows: First, Mrs. G. Barker; second, Mrs. M. Stewart; contest, Mrs. R. McInnes. Mrs. J. A. Elmer was general convener of the successful affair, and Mrs. G. Ford convoked the tea arrangements. A number of additional guests arrived for tea.

Bridge Party Nets $90 for Chapter Fund

The bridge party held yesterday afternoon by the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter I.O.O.F. at the home of Capt. and Mrs. G. C. Jones, Rockland Avenue, was an unqualified success and as a result, the sum of $90 was realized for the chapter's general fund.

There were twenty-three tables of players in the house and thirteen additional tables were arranged in the homes of other members of the chapter and their friends.

The guests were received by Mrs. G. C. Jones and the regent, Mrs. J. T. Jones, while Mrs. C. T. Beard, as general convener of the party, had charge of the seating of the players and the general arrangements.

In the dining-room the tea table was centred by a beautiful bowl of deep pink antirrhinum and ferns, and in this room Mrs. Kyrie Symonds and Mrs. E. V. Finland poured tea. Coffee was served in the reception hall, where the table was attractively arranged with a bowl of pink carnations. Mrs. G. C. Jones, and Mrs. Sutherland Brown poured coffee.

The prizes were won by Mrs. M. M. Connolly, Mrs. H. Forrester, Mrs. C. R. Bull and Mrs. C. Shoppe (Shanghai). Corsage bouquets of roses were worn by Mrs. G. C. Jones, Mrs. Beard and Mrs. J. T. Jones.

RED CROSS

THANK P.T.A.

The honorary treasurer of the Victoria Branch of the Red Cross Society acknowledges with thanks, receipt a cheque for $91.86 per A. Whyte, treasurer of the Sir James Douglas Parent-Teacher Association, being half proceeds from the bazaar recently held.

WANT SUGGESTIONS

At the executive meeting of the Community Chest and Red Cross campaign committee, held yesterday, it was decided to appoint a committee to receive suggestions from the workers and the canvassers generally that would be helpful when organizing next year's drive. Personnel of the committee: Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton (convener), "C" Division; S. J. D. Clark, "B" Division; J. Barracough, "D" Division; Captain W. H. Molson, "E" Division. Communications from the public should be addressed to the above at Community Chest headquarters, 1205 Government Street. On Monday next, November 27, a final dinner and rally of all workers in the campaign, will be held at Spencer's dining-room at 6:15 p.m. It is hoped that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will be able to be present. At this dinner, final reports from divisional chairmen and majors will be received and the result of the campaign announced. All attending will pay their own way. As the canvassers will be working until 6:15 p.m. Monday, the final results of the campaign will not be known until that time. Duncan MacBride, campaign chairman, will preside.

Friends Arrange Party at Sooke

Honoring Miss Betty Lock, Saseen, and Mr. Duncan Lorimer, North Sooke, who are to be married shortly, Mesdames Brownsey and Syrett and Misses Cogswell, Bileids, Thornber, Zuur and Milne entertained at a joint shower in the dining-room of the Sooke Community Hall, recently. While Miss Helen Welsh played the "Bridal Chorus" the young couple were led to the seats of honor beneath a canopy of pink and white streamers, from which a white wedding bell hung. They were welcomed by Miss Milne, and the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. The gift table was centred with a pink and white "Good Luck" slipper, which contained the gifts for the bride-to-be, and Mr. Lorimer's gifts were drawn from a realistic "Wishing Well." Supper was served and dancing enjoyed.

The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Lock, Mr. and Mrs. Lorimer, Mr. and Mrs. L. Adcock, Mr. and Mrs. W. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. R. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. A. Brodie, Mr. and Mrs. K. Cairns, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cairns, Mr. and Mrs. J. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. P. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. P. Filton, Mr. and Mrs. J. Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. O. Frederickson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. R. Muford, Mr. and Mrs. Morton, Mr. and Mrs. W. Orchard, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pontius, Mr. and Mrs. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. "CONSPIRACY" TO SHOW AT PLAZA

Leading Roles Are Taken by Allan Lane, Linda Hayes and Robert Barratt

A drama of suspense and adventure is presented in "Conspiracy," new thriller by Allan Lane, Linda Hayes and Robert Barratt in the leading roles, and which will open today at the Plaza Theatre.

The plot deals with the efforts of Lane, a young American, and Miss Hayes, native of an unnamed foreign dictator nation, to escape from the meshes of an intricate political war in which they find themselves trapped.

J. Farrell MacDonald, Charles Roy and other favorites are seen in important supporting roles in this RKO Radio picture, which was directed by Lew Landers.

ATLAS Monkey pilots, flower operators and rain-smashers were among dozens of queer jobs created for the

"I CAN'T PRAISE MOSBY'S TONIC ENOUGH!" VICTORIA CITIZEN TELLS OF RELIEF

Mr. Pauly, of Howe Street, Had Bloating Spells After Every Meal—Food Felt Like Solid Lead in His Stomach—Was Weak and Run-down—He Now Says: "Mosby's Tonic Relieved Me. This Medicine is Splendid!"

Grateful statements—from many parts of Victoria and this general section—praising and endorsing MOSBY'S TONIC, continue to pour in daily to the Cunningham Drug Stores, Ltd., Fort and Douglas Streets, Victoria, where this "New Mixture of Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents" is being introduced and explained to the local public by a Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as "The MOSBY TONIC MAN."

For instance, just a few days ago, the following Sincere Statement, describing what MOSBY'S TONIC can do in certain forms of suffering, was received from Mr. L. Pauly, of 118 Howe Street, Victoria. Mr. Pauly has lived here for 32 years, and is widely known throughout Victoria and vicinity. Read his Grateful Statement, which follows:

Felt Like He Had Solid Lead in His Stomach

"I want to help others who suffer as I did. So I gladly give you this testimonial about Mosby's Tonic," said Mr. Pauly. "For two years my stomach was disordered and upset. After meals my food REFUSED to digest right, and nearly everything I ate seemed to form a heavy lump inside of my stomach, just like a solid chunk of lead. My food would often come back up into my throat, and I would have spells of nausea. I simply hated to look forward to meals, for I knew if I ate I would suffer afterwards. Sometimes I would swell up so badly with gas that I had difficulty getting my breath. I felt weak and run-down in general as a result of all of this suffering."

Now Says: "Mosby's Tonic Was What I Needed"

"Now, like many other people, I had tried medicine after medicine without any benefit. So I knew what it means to go for years and not

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen
Atlas—"The Wizard of Oz," starring Judy Garland.
Capitol—"Babes in Arms," starring Mickey Rooney.
Cadet—"The Sun Never Sets," starring Basil Rathbone.
Dominion—"Fast and Furious," starring Ann Sothern.
Oak Bay—"The Ware Case," with Clive Brook.
Plaza—"Conspiracy," featuring Allan Lane.

first time in the production of "The Wizard of Oz," musical spectacle in color, based on the L. Frank Baum story, and which is now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre.

DOMINION One of Hollywood's THEATRE greatest casting jobs arose during the making of "Fast and Furious," which will end today at the Dominion Theatre. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer had to find a man who could play Beethoven's Seventh Symphony on a musical saw, and Director Berkeley interviewed hundreds of saw-players only to find them all "swing" crazy. At last, one conservative was located and placed in the picture.

CAPITOL Mickey Rooney, acknowledged as one of the most versatile all-around juvenile entertainers in Hollywood, a veteran stage and screen artist at the age of seventeen, and famous everywhere as Andy Hardy in the Hardy Family series, is seen with Judy Garland in "Babes in Arms," for the last times today at the Capitol Theatre.

"THE WARE CASE" HAS GOOD CAST

Clive Brook, Jane Baxter and Barry K. Barnes Star in Oak Bay Presentation

One of the highlights of "The Ware Case," the picture which will open today at the Oak Bay Theatre, is the trial scene enacted in an authentic courtroom, the well-known No. 1 court at the Old Bailey, scene of many of England's most famous trials.

To give the picture the necessary technical accuracy, a real defence lawyer was engaged by the producers as adviser.

The stars of "The Ware Case" are Clive Brook, Jane Baxter and Barry K. Barnes. The film was produced by Michael Balcon, and is a Gaumont presentation released through 20th Century-Fox.

"THE SUN NEVER SETS" IS AT CADET TODAY

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Basil Rathbone virtually symbolize an empire in Universal's "The Sun Never Sets," which will open today at the Cadet Theatre. This is a picture dealing with the British Colonial Civil Service, which protects 500 million people over an area of thirteen million square miles. But the whole story is told through two brothers, portrayed by Fairbanks and Rathbone.

VICTORIA MAN IS APPOINTED

C. A. Magrath Named by U.S. President to Portuguese-American Commission

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (P).—The State Department announced today President Roosevelt has appointed C. A. Magrath, of Victoria, as the non-national American representative on the Portuguese-American commission for the advancement of peace between the two nations.

The commission, set up after a treaty signed in 1914, is composed of one United States citizen and one Portuguese citizen, plus one citizen of another nationality representing each country and one joint commissioner.

Mr. Magrath succeeds the late George Herbert Sedgwick, a former Supreme Court Justice in Ontario, as the United States non-national member.

Mr. Magrath formerly was chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, and served also as chairman of the Canadian section of the international joint commission between the United States and Canada. He has been a resident of Victoria for some years.

Large Crowd at Social Evening

A crowd of more than 150 attended the social evening held by the Knights of Columbus Tuesday night, for the benefit of the unemployment committee.

Cards were played in the dining-room, while the main hall was devoted to dancing from 9 until 1 o'clock.

Serving on the dance committee were Jack Hay, Miss M. Petherbridge, Miss Callan and C. J. Collins, and cards, Miss Day and Miss Lilly.

Married Couple Need Furniture

Hard times have struck a young married couple with a small baby, known to the Family Welfare Association. They have no furniture or bedding, yet they find it impossible to keep up the expenses of living in furnished rooms. They need quilts or blankets, for a double bed and for the child's cot, one pair of double sheets, mattress for a double or single bed, dresser, two kitchen chairs and some homelike living-room furniture. Anyone with any of the above-named articles stored away in the attic and not being used is asked to phone the Family Welfare Association, G 2913, and someone will call for them.

ADELAIDE IS BOUND NORTH

Popular Ship Departed Last Night for Prince Rupert—Louise Laid Up

Fresh from drydock at Esquimalt, where repairs were effected to her propeller and sternpost, the B.C. Coast Service Ss. Princess Adelaide sailed from Vancouver last night, bound for Prince Rupert and way ports on the British Columbia Coast.

Ss. Princess Louise, which had been relieving while the Adelaide was off the run, is laid up here until needed for further service.

LINER PASSED IN

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha Ss. Hie Maru reached William Head at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and after obtaining pratique continued to Vancouver. The liner had passengers and freight for the Mainland port. William Harold, of the local Great Northern office, boarded the Hie Maru at Quinsay and returned aboard her to Vancouver.

NEW YORK-BERMUDA

The United States Lines Ss. President Roosevelt will be placed in service between New York and Bermuda, the schedule to go into effect on December 15 and, according to present plans, is to continue until April 28.

The service between the two ports has been planned to provide sailings every week in each direction, the steamer leaving New York on Saturday afternoon, arriving Bermuda the following Monday morning, and on the return trip leaving Bermuda on Tuesday afternoon, arriving New York on Thursday morning.

The President Roosevelt is well known to thousands of travelers who have sailed on her while in service between New York and Europe. The scheduling of the President Roosevelt to Bermuda is the first conclusive announcement of the United States Lines since the passage of the new neutrality law forced the country to withdraw its steamers from their regular service to Northern European ports.

AWAY ON FIRST LEG OF VOYAGE

Famous Old Cutter Bear Sails From Boston for Antarctic

BOSTON, Nov. 22 (AP).—Heading out into a near gale, the old barkentine Bear departed today on the first leg of a voyage to Antarctica, longest undertaken by the United States Navy with a sailing vessel since advent of steam.

The Bear did not break out her canvas as she began the 12,000-mile voyage to Australia, but moved out of the harbor propelled by her new Diesel engine.

Companion vessel to the departed motorship North Star in the United States Government's first Antarctic expedition in a century, the Bear last sailed in the navy's service in 1884, when called upon to battle through Arctic ice packs to help rescue survivors of the ill-fated expedition of Lieutenant A. W. Greely near Cape Sabine.

The lead-off ship of the expedition, the motorship North Star, left Boston last week. The old Bear will refuel at Panama, and then turn her oaken hull almost due south for the ice-limbed Bay of Whales.

Rendezvousing near Little America after January 1, the two ships will unload part of their stores and supplies at that base, then strike out for an east base to be established somewhere along a 1,000-mile stretch of uncharted coastline.

Rear Admiral Richard Byrd, commander of the expedition, will board the North Star at Panama for the run to Little America, but once there will transfer to the Bear, veteran of his last expedition to Antarctica, for the voyage to the east base.

Big Decrease in Lumber Shipments From B.C. Points

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22 (CP).—British Columbia's lumber shipments to the United Kingdom totaled 74,000,000 feet in October, a decrease of 41,000,000 feet from the previous month, according to figures issued here today by the Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau.

The loss was ascribed to a shortage of shipping, but shippers said they are hopeful some of the curtailment will be made up by increased buying for construction on the Prairies and in Eastern Canada.

Barkentine Bear Sails South

SEAL HERDS GET LARGER

Record Kill Is Reported on Pribilof Islands for 1939 Season

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 22 (AP).—Men who watch the world's greatest seal herds on the Pribilof Islands brought here today a report of a record kill and a story of sea-sickness to make the strongest stomach quiver.

Twenty-four passengers of the United States Bureau of Fisheries boat Penguin were reported too seasick to eat for sixty-two hours in rough weather on the trip "outside" to Seattle.

John Lipke, Government agent on the islands who is headed for the States on a leave of absence after three years on the Pribilofs, reported an all-time high kill of 60,437 seals for the 1939 season. He estimated the herd, protected by the United States, had increased to 2,500,000 animals.

The annual selective killing of the seals is supervised by the United States agents, but the proceeds from the fur sales are split with Canada and Russia under the international pact for preservation and propagation of the valuable fur bearers.

What Today Means

"SAGITTARIUS" If November 23 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:5 to 11:45 a.m.; from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m., and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m.; from 5:45 to 7:45 p.m., and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

Time is the important factor in this day's affairs and requires watching, because, if you lose track of it, numerous complications can result. Tactless frankness is likely to be disconcerting, so it might be well to avoid resorting to it. Peevishness is bound to mar peaceful domestic relationships this day.

The universal slogan most needed today is "keep a civil tongue," for that will be the one and only antidote for quarrels. Seeking amusement at someone else's expense, especially through ridicule, is apt to bring grief to those foolish enough to use this means. It will be largely through a disregard for the feelings of other people that most of the unpleasant situations will be created. Married and engaged couples, and those whom Cupid has brought together, must be prepared to make allowances for errors of judgment or those caused by thoughtlessness.

If you are a woman and November 23 is your birthday, you should always be able to exert a good influence over men. A strong personality probably will enable you to attract a flattering amount of attention. You are apt to be often called upon to make momentous decisions. You ought to command the respect and high regard of those with whom you work or are thrown into close contact. You ought to be proficient in domestic science. Through missionary, educational, chemical, social welfare or literary work, you may win not only a worth while reputation, but also have an income that will more than offset the expense of your education. A husband is likely to reflect excellent taste and good judgment.

The child born on November 23 has an abundance of faith, which must never be destroyed. Being honest and truthful, this youngster expects others with whom it comes into contact, to be likewise. Such children are usually very fortunate in their selection of a career.

If you are a man and November 23 is your natal day, your faith in yourself will inspire other people to repose a lot in you. You ought to be a money-maker and a good financier. As an engineer, architect, builder, public official, statesman, scientist, salesman, manufacturer or bank official your way to success should be easy.

Organizing Union Of Retail Clerks

An organization meeting of the Victoria Retail Clerks' Union, affiliated with the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, was held Tuesday night under the chairmanship of C. J. Wright, for the purpose of widening the scope of the union.

H. P. Gray, secretary-treasurer, reported that the staffs of four large retail stores in the city had joined the union, and organization work was proceeding with encouraging results. Reviewing the history of the union, he stated that it had been instrumental many years ago in having the Wednesday half-holiday act passed, and in obtaining improved conditions generally for employees of retail stores.

The object of the present organization, he said, was to provide a strong organization to watch the interests of clerks, and make representations on any new acts or amendments before the Provincial Legislature.

LONG VOYAGE FOR CLIPPER

Pan-American Flying Boat Making Flight to New Zealand

The forty-one-and-a-half-ton Honolulu Clipper was ready on Monday to take-off for an 8,000-mile journey down under to New Zealand for the purpose of familiarizing personnel with the route over which Pan-American Airways has requested the United States Civil Aeronautics Authority for a certificate of convenience and necessity to operate with mail, passengers and express.

Captain William A. Cluthe is in command of the flight, which the company is using also as an opportunity for transfer of personnel and from stations on the route, and also for delivery of supplies, particularly to Canton Island, which has no regular transportation.

In the forthcoming regular service, the clipper will fly to New Zealand on a four-day schedule, with a similar length of time for the return journey. The Honolulu Clipper had a crew of fourteen aboard and some eighteen members of the company's personnel for Honolulu, Canton Island, Noumea and Auckland, including G. W. Angus, communications superintendent on an inspection trip, and Harold Gatty, Pan-American Airways representative, New Zealand.

Status of the projected service between the United States and New Zealand is this: Pan-American Airways has equipment available. The company this summer received delivery from the Boeing Aircraft Company of six 42 1-2 ton flying-boats, of which three have been assigned to the Pacific. Honolulu Clipper is a representative of this type—which will be used in the New Zealand service. With the two Marin boats, the Pacific division thus has five clippers for operation of the service to the Orient, plus the projected route to New Zealand. Bases all along the 8,000-mile route have been established and were inspected by representatives of the United States Government when the California Clipper surveyed the route last summer.

VANCOUVER MAY BUILD QUANTITY OF PLANES

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22 (CP).—Production that Vancouver may be the scene of a large scale airplane industry was given by Alderman H. D. Wilson to fellow councilmen yesterday.

"I believe that within a few days I will be in a position to reveal plans for manufacture in Vancouver of a large quantity of planes," he said.

Slide Delays Train
VANCOUVER, Nov. 22 (CP).—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company's passenger train due here at 10:30 p.m. last night arrived today more than seven hours behind schedule due to a mud slide near Hazel, B.C., about 100 miles east of Vancouver. No damage was caused by the slide, which was cleared at 3 a.m. today.

TAKES OFF ON MERCY FLIGHT

Canadian Airways Pilot Flying North to Aid Frost-Bitten Missionary

LAC DU BONNET, Man., Nov. 21 (CP).—Captain Bill Catton, of Canadian Airways, Ltd., is flying over northern wastes, tonight, on a perilous trip to Repulse Bay on the West Coast of Hudson Bay within the Arctic Circle.

Catton left this air base sixty miles north of Winnipeg this afternoon for the northern post to return a missionary with frozen hands to hospital at Churchill. Rev. Marc Lecroix, O.M.I., thirty-four, of St. Hyacinthe, Que., and Rev. Joseph G. Masse, O.M.I., thirty-four, of Quebec City, are both stationed at Repulse Bay, but which one is in need of medical attention was not known.

Most Rev. Arsene Turquetil, O.M.I., Bishop of the Missionary Vicariate of the Hudson Bay, requested the flight.

The trip is considered unusually hazardous because the northern waters are not completely frozen yet, and normal winter air transport will not start for two weeks. Captain Catton took off with wheels on his plane and is carrying skis in the cabin.

NELSON, B.C., Nov. 22 (CP).—Police tonight sought safeblowers who broke into a local bakery last night and escaped with about $100 in cash. The bakery had been open only a week.

Shipping Warned Mines Adrift in European Waters

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP).—The United States Navy's hydrographic office warned shipping today that thirty-one mines were adrift in the North Sea, where several British and neutral ships have gone down in the last few days.

This, officials estimated, was the largest number reported since the war started.

The reports were relayed by the cruiser Trenton, flagship of the American special squadron in European waters, from warnings broadcast by belligerent and neutral nations.

Lumberjack Says Buckley's Mixture Grand Medicine for Severe GRIPPY COUGHS

It takes a lot to get a lumberjack down, but it needed only Buckley's Mixture to get him up again! Read what W. G. McClure, Cowichan Lake, B.C., says: "I had such a severe 'grippy' cold that I had to go to bed. The camp foreman brought me a bottle of Buckley's Mixture, and thanks to it, I am on my feet again. You may use this letter to let the world know about this grand medicine." Buckley's Mixture is made to do one thing only—give relief in shortest time from coughs, colds, grippe, bronchitis, etc. Prove for yourself that it does not mean time you have a cough or cold. Don't experiment—Buy Buckley's.

OVER 10 MILLION BOTTLES SOLD! BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE'S

EVERY DOLLAR YOU GIVE WILL HELP SAVE LIVES, RELIEVE SUFFERING

The RED CROSS needs your help—Now!

DURING THE LAST WAR, the Canadian Red Cross raised in Canada 9 millions of dollars for the benefit of Canadian soldiers. The Canadian Red Cross contributed an additional 6 million dollars to the British Red Cross to assist in its great work. The Canadian Red Cross also sent to the front 347,000 bags of goods conservatively valued at 20 million dollars. The total contributions of the Canadian Red Cross in the last war amounted to approximately 35 millions in cash and goods.

Now the Canadian Red Cross has again swung into action. Faced with definite tasks which had to be undertaken at once, the Canadian Red Cross has already pledged itself to carry out the following undertakings:

1. To build and equip a 300-bed hospital for Canadian soldiers at Taplow, England. This is to be called Canadian Red Cross Hospital Number One. The cost of this undertaking is conservatively estimated at $250,000.
2. To purchase wool, cloth and all types of materials for the immediate needs of Red Cross branches throughout the Dominion. For this purpose, the Canadian Red Cross has already borrowed from Canadian banks and has expended, or appropriated for immediate expenditure $408,000.

3. To furnish all branches of the Red Cross in Canada with the wool and other materials they need for the next eight months (conservatively estimated at $150,000 a month) $1,200,000
4. To carry on the normal work of the Red Cross in Canada, to maintain the Red Cross outpost hospitals and nursing stations, to carry on the work of the Red Cross in frontier districts. During the last two years the cost of this work was $2,250,000. For the coming year the Red Cross will endeavour to keep the cost of this effort down to $950,000.

These Four Items Total $2,808,000

Canadians are being asked to contribute $3,000,000 in this drive, which will leave but a small margin to provide for unexpected emergencies, to assist the allied Red Cross Societies with goods and money, and for other needs which are almost sure to arise.

VANCOUVER TAKES LEAD IN COAST HOCKEY LEAGUE

Frank Nighbor Is Given Top Place By Former Stars

King Clancy, Dave Gill and Alex Connell Claim One-Time Centre Man of Ottawa Senators Greatest Hockey Player in History — Adams Started Argument

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (CP).—Three of Ottawa's hockey authorities stepped forward tonight to claim Frank Nighbor, one-time poke-check wizard of Ottawa Stanley Cup teams, as the greatest player of all time.

Thus did Frank (King) Clancy, Dave Gill and Alex Connell jump into the controversy that started when Jovial Jack Adams, of Detroit Red Wings, named Syl Apps, of Toronto Maple Leafs, as the game's greatest.

Others may place "Cyclone" Taylor, Howie Morenz, Eddie Shore and Apps at the top of the list, but Clancy, Connell and Gill made it plain that in Ottawa Nighbor must get the decision.

"There never was anyone to compare with Nighbor as an all-round hockey player," said Gill, former manager and coach of the old Ottawa Senators in the National Hockey League.

"In his prime Nighbor could skate as fast as the best. He did everything so smoothly, so methodically and with such precision that his effectiveness was not as apparent as in others.

"But the reverse was true. Nighbor, while not as flashy as some, certainly was more effective."

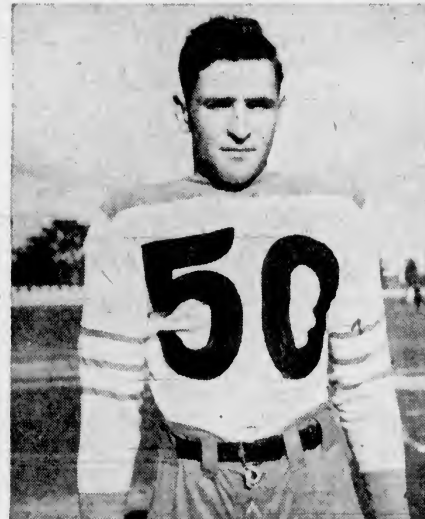

Clancy, famed defenceman of Ottawa and Toronto, held that Nighbor was as good as anyone, and added: "To me, he certainly was top."

Connell, who tended goal for Ottawa and Montreal Stanley Cup teams, said: "Nighbor was the greatest and most effective centre player of all time."

Two Star Members of Ottawa Grid Team

JACK TAYLOR

CURLY MOYNAHAN

Stars of the Ottawa Roughriders grid squad, which captured the first of the home-and-home series against the Toronto Argonauts, Dominion titleholders, last Saturday by an 11-0 score. These two lads played a big part in the shutout decision. Taylor is a former Toronto boy, and played with Balm Beach last season. He is rated as one of the best snapbacks in Canadian football. Moynahan is ranked as one of Canada's best snaps, and has been turning in some fine games for the Roughriders this year, so far. He is an outstanding secondary defence man. The Ottawa and Argos aggregations will clash again in the second game on Saturday.

ONE-SIDED WINS IN CITY LEAGUE

Another set of one-sided victories were posted in the second division of the City Table Tennis League last night at the Crystal Garden. Little Larks, the pace-setters, had no trouble in trimming the Aces, 33-3, while Royal Arcanum whipped the Sylvester U-Drive, 29-7.

Results follow:

Sylvester U-Drive—A. Seod 0, E. Seod 0, T. Kay 3, W. Erickson 2; Seod and Seod 1, Kay and Erickson 1.

Royal Arcanum—S. McKenzie 8, K. Lawson 7, R. Ricketts 4, H. Pretty 8; McKenzie and Lawson 1, Ricketts and Pretty 2.

Little Larks—Prior 7, D. Elworthy 7, D. Campbell 8, W. McGregor 7; Prior and Elworthy 2, Campbell and McGregor 2.

Aces—B. Shade 0, Stewart 0, Gagliardi 3, Chamber 0, Shade and Stewart 0, Gagliardi and Chamber 0.

Victoria XI Faces St. Andrews Squad Here on Saturday

Pacific Coast Football League Contest Scheduled At Athletic Park at 2:45—Locals Have Good Chance to Improve Their Standing

LEAGUE STANDING

Team	P	W	L	T	Points
Victoria	5	3	1	1	11
North Shore	4	3	0	1	9
St. Andrews	4	2	0	2	8
St. Salvator	4	2	0	2	8
Radial	4	1	2	1	5

Riding at the top of the Pacific Coast Football League standings, Victoria will be out to pick up additional points Saturday when they oppose St. Andrews at Royal Athletic Park. Joe Obee has been named referee and the kick-off has been set for 2:45 o'clock.

Locals blanked the Radials, Canadian champions, 2-0, in their last performance at the Caledonia Avenue enclosure, and will rule slight favorites over the Scots in Saturday's league match. In five games so far, Victoria has suffered only one setback. In the win column they have registered three times, and gained one stalemate, a 1-1 decision with the Radials.

Manager Poyntz' redshirts went through a stiff workout last night at the Victoria Sports Centre, and every man reported in good condition. No announcement of the starting line-up has been made, but it is expected to be the same as that which opened against the Canadian champions on Armistice Day.

Still smarting under the unexpected reverse they sustained last week at the hands of St. Salvator, Scots have made a number of changes in hopes of producing a winning combination. Special workouts have been held during the week, and every possible move is being made to pep up the club for Saturday's match with the pace-setting Victoria Club.

TURN BACK SEATTLE TO MOVE INTO FIRST PLACE IN STANDINGS

Two Goals by Morey Rimstad and One by Jean Pusie in Last Period Decide 5-3 Decision—Score Is Tied at End of Second Session—Dave Downie Nets Two for Seahawks

SEATTLE, Nov. 22 (CP).—By virtue of a two-goal apiece in the final period Vancouver Lions punched out a 5-3 victory over Seattle Seahawks here tonight, and moved to the head of the Pacific Coast League's young standings.

It was the season's opener for Seattle.

Dave Downie took a pass from Daley to open the scoring for Seattle in the first two minutes of play, but within forty seconds Lude Palm tied it up for Lions on Loren Mercer's assist.

Late in the period Morey Rimstad and Jean Pusie engineered Lions' second goal with Owen Lennon converting the double pass, and before the period closed Mercer laid down another pass that Adams sank in the Seattle goal.

Downie and Daley combined again early in the second and before the period was three minutes old Daley picked up Ripley's pass to tie the score at 3-3.

Pusie counted on a solo effort midway through the third and Rimstad fired in Lennon's pass later for Vancouver's margin.

Line-Ups

Vancouver—Jackson; Pusie, Mercer; Rimstad, Palm, Lennon. Substitutes—O'Neill, Woods, Adams and Hutton.

Seattle—Pinkie; Houbregs, Kenny; Ripley; Downie, Daley. Substitutes—Moffatt, King, Blyth, Tabor and Gilmour.

Referee—Cam Proudlock.

Summary

First Period—1, Seattle, Downie (Daley), 1:10; 2, Vancouver, Palm (Mercer), 1:50; 3, Vancouver, Lennon (Rimstad, Pusie), 17:10; 4, Vancouver, Adams (Mercer), 19:31.

Penalties—Daley, Mercer.

Second Period—3, Seattle, Downie (Daley), 2:30.

Penalties—Houbregs, Gilmour, Pusie (3).

Third Period—7, Vancouver, Pusie, 11:30; 8, Vancouver, Rimstad (Lennon), 14:40.

No penalties.

GRID SQUAD SELECTED BY AUTHORITIES

All-Star Inter-Collegiate Football Team Announced in the East

TORONTO, Nov. 22 (CP).—Those touchdown kids from the University of Western Ontario, long Joe Krol and bawling Harry Szumlinski, made the 1939 intercollegiate all-star senior football team today.

The flashiest backfield combination to come into the big school league in years took the running-half positions on the team selected for The Canadian Press by fourteen coaches and sports writers in the four cities of the union. And this was the first year of senior college ball for Krol and Szumlinski.

Four other members of the undefeated and untied eastern team were selected, with three players from McGill, two from Queen's and one from the University of Toronto.

Here is the team:

Flying Wing—Alex Hamilton, McGill.

Half—Harry Szumlinski, Western.

Half—Joe Krol, Western.

Half (secondary defence)—Clem Faust, Western.

Quarterback—Al Hurley, Western.

Snap—Nick Paltowski, Queen's.

Inside—Jerry Conlin, Queen's.

Inside—Chuck McLean, Toronto.

Middle—Murray Telford, McGill.

Middle—Hogie Blarman, McGill.

Outside—Roy Kent, Western.

Outside—Claude Moore, Western.

The emphasis seemed to be on the wide-open attack of the wild horses from London. Hurley directed the plays that brought the Mustangs victory every time their great record was threatened. Faust paid off in field goals and conversions with rare accuracy, and Kent and Moore were great pass-catchers as well as defensive standouts.

Both Krol and Szumlinski received the votes of thirteen selectors and that was closer than anyone else came to unanimous mention. The vote was "weighted" so that equal voting strength prevailed in all cities.

Eight Teams Will Compete in Newly Organized League

Big Eastern Cities Entered in Indoor Baseball Loop Which Will Play for Seventeen Weeks—Former Big Leaguers Comment on Game—Players to Make Around $80 Per Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—It was a little disconcerting to listen to such hard-shelled old baseball men bubbling and singing like tea kettles over the merits of softball.

They stood around in little groups at the cocktail hour in a big hotel ballroom. It was the coming-out party for the National Indoor Baseball League, indoor baseball, it was insisted, not softball—although it seems like trying to disguise pants by calling them trousers.

There was Gabby Street, the old sarge of St. Louis. There was Tris Speaker—the only Speaker. There was Harry Davis, once quite a few dollars in Connie Mack's $100,000 infield. There was Brick Owens, who has a hitch-hiker's thumb from calling 'em safe or out for years. There was Bill Wambach, who turned in the only unassisted triple play in a world series.

The conversation ebbed and flowed, with scraps picked up here and there fitting together as a fairly comprehensive picture.

"Eight clubs . . . Eastern and Western divisions . . . Profit not the immediate motive . . . Every club backed soundly enough to carry through for at least two years . . . Pay some players as high as $80 a week . . . Forty-foot pitching distance, must have more hitting . . . Assemble teams from best available materials."

"It's really a great game," said Gabby. "I tried to hit the ball. The catcher was throwing it back to the pitcher before I could get the bat around. The pitchers just start winding up like a big pinwheel and when they get going about as fast as a cream separator they turn the ball loose, underhand. You don't even see it half the time."

"It's a game for youngsters. A softball player can make a good baseball player, but an old baseball player never can make a good softball player. The game's too fast. I've seen one fellow start a double play by tossing the ball behind him. And just try to make a double play from third to second to first. It's a split-second proposition."

Speaker is president of the league, which includes New York, Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia in the Eastern Division; and Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati and St. Louis in the West. A seventeen-week schedule has been arranged, after which the Eastern and Western division winners will meet in a world series.

Bruins Dickering To Have Veteran Play All Tussles

BOSTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Boston Bruins were reported today to be dickering with Eddie Shore to play every remaining game on the National Hockey League schedule, at home and abroad.

His definite answer is due tomorrow, it was understood. The outstanding defenseman was with the Bruins as they lost, 2-1, to the Canadiens here last night, returning after the game to Springfield, the home of his International-American League team.

In a Friendlier Mood

Here's light-heavyweight champion Billy Conn (left), of Pittsburgh, and Gus Lesnevich in a more friendly mood than the last time they met. Conn gave the challenger a bad beating in their fifteen-round battle for the title in Madison Square Garden recently. Conn is one of the cleverest boxers in the ring today.

NETTERS WILL RESUME PLAY

Heavy Schedule of Fixtures Tonight at Brentwood Badminton Hall

With close to thirty matches listed, play in the fifth annual Saanich badminton championships will resume this evening at the Brentwood Hall, and when the activities are concluded, the stage will be set for the semi-finals on Friday.

Tonight's heavy schedule will start at 7 o'clock. Players are asked to co-operate with the tournament committee by reporting to the official referee, Maurice "Tommy" Atkins, five minutes before scheduled playing time. Draw follows:

RAMBLERS ARE BEATEN AGAIN

Hershey Hands L. Patrick's Farm Club Sixth Straight Hockey Defeat

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22 (AP)—Hershey Bears handed Philadelphia Ramblers their sixth straight defeat of the International-American Hockey League season tonight, 6-4.

Harry Frost led Bears' with two goals, while Pat McReavy, Windy Siegel, Red Hamill and Jerry Shannon each scored one. Lude Wareing made two for the losers; Lloyd Alsbay and Herb Foster firing the others.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 22 (AP)—Springfield Indians broke a four-game losing streak tonight, defeating Pittsburgh Hornets 2-0 in an International-American League hockey contest.

Max Kaminsky, the Indians' centre, who is the league's leading point-getter—with ten assists—came through with his first goal of the season. Norm Schultz scored the other.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22 (AP)—New Haven Eagles defeated Cleveland 6-3, tonight, in an International-American Hockey League game.

Wilt Gude, star goalie of the Eagles, was injured in the second period when struck on the right elbow by a hard shot, and was unable to finish the game. He was replaced by Gordon Beatty, Cleveland amateur, who once played professionally with Cleveland eight years ago.

ARE MOBILIZING FULL RESOURCES

little warlike excitement or the blaring of bands.

"The romance of war has been pretty well blacked out, and that, perhaps, is a good thing. Parades take second place to utility and efficiency."

Apart from the "magnificent spirit of the people," Mr. Crerar said the thing that impressed him was the magnitude of the task the British people had set for themselves.

"The people have not made the mistake of thinking this war can be fought and won by the armed forces alone. They have determined that every atom of their strength, military, financial and economic, shall be mobilized for victory."

POWERFUL MACHINE
Great Britain had transformed itself almost overnight from a peaceful nation to a powerful war machine, not because of dictation "by a despot from a castle" but because of the voluntary determination of a democratic people.

In France Mr. Crerar said he found the same quiet determination and the same complete mobilization in which all do their bit.

Canada, Mr. Crerar said, is in a much better position to aid the Allies than it was in 1914. With great grain harvests and completed great mineral and manufacturing resources, Canada was in a position to play an important part in the struggle.

Canada entered the struggle and made it her own freely and voluntarily, Mr. Crerar declared, and would give every co-operation to the Allies.

WEST ROAD CAGERS WIN HOOP GAME

Defeat Champion & White At Saanichton—Unities And Aces Win

(By Staff Representative)
AGRICULTURAL HALL, SAANICHTON, Nov. 22.—Six Victoria and District Basketball League quintettes performed here tonight, fourteen miles from home, because they were unable to secure playing facilities in their home city.

With the doors of the Victoria High School gymnasium closed in their faces, and negotiations for other basketball courts brought to an unsuccessful conclusion, league officials were glad to get the use of the hall here.

It is fourteen years since basketball was played here, but judging by the attendance for the inaugural programme and the enthusiasm of the fans, the move met with instant success. The majority of the supporters were there to lend their moral support to West Road's veteran hoopers, but some basketball fans came from Victoria to see the quintettes in action.

The evening's programme was the height of versatility, and left nothing to be desired. There was good basketball, rugged play and a real Donnybrook between West Road and Champion & White, rivals for suburban supremacy, to wind up the quintettes in action.

West Road, Unities and Eight Aces checked in with victories on the triple card. Roaders defeated Champion & White, 31-21, in the night-cap, while "Coach Wally" Yeamans' Unities nixed out the Cardinals, 21-19, in a cagey fixture. Aces whipped the Bombers, 36-16, in the curtain-raiser.

WILD GAME
In one of the wildest exhibitions of the leather-handling code seen in city league for many a moon, West Road defeated the red-tinted Champion & White, 31-21, in the night-cap, while "Coach Wally" Yeamans' Unities nixed out the Cardinals, 21-19, in a cagey fixture. Aces whipped the Bombers, 36-16, in the curtain-raiser.

Small boats were launched and the survivors were brought ashore. The sailors were amazingly cheerful after their ordeal. They were wearing all kinds of clothing, including dressing gowns and bathing suits.

One seaman, who was limping, refused assistance, saying "I don't need any help, there are others worse off than me look after them."

During the day the Gipsy had rescued three German airmen who were found adrift in a rubber boat in the North Sea and brought them safely to port. The Gipsy also had rescued the crew of a ship sunk in the North Sea a few days ago. The crew of the Gipsy collected £14 for the survivors of this ship but the sum was lost when the destroyer struck the mine.

STANBURY IN LEAD
LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Conrad Stanbury, of Winnipeg, took the lead today in the Empire snooker tournament. He beat Charles Read, Salisbury, three frames to two. Stanbury conceded twenty-one points each frame.

TYPHUS IN WARSAW
KAUNAS, Nov. 22 (AP)—An epidemic of typhus in Warsaw was reported by a Reich Army physician in a broadcast picked up here tonight. The physician, interviewed by an announcer, said that he had treated many typhus cases in the former Polish capital.

ACES TRIM BOMBERS
Perhaps it was the snappy, new red, white and blue stockings, which set off their flashy uniforms to perfection, that set the Aces into their stride against the Bombers in the curtain-raiser. Aces won, 36-16, and from the first tip-off, were definitely the better quintette.

The eventual winners played smart ball, and after setting up a 16-5 lead at the end of the first half, fired home twenty points in the second canto, while the Bombers were scoring eleven. Beaten by an even score points, Bombers fought gamely all evening against a more polished quintette.

Referee, Macmurchie; umpire, Phillips.

Teams and scorers follow:
West Road—R. Mitchell (8), B. Mitchell (12), Clarke, McHattie (1), W. Butler, E. Butler (9), Cunningham (1) and Handy. Total, 31.

Revellers to Face Varsity Gridmen On U.B.C. Ground

—The Big Four Canadian Football League match between Victoria Revellers and the Varsity Thunderbirds here on Saturday afternoon has been switched from Athletic Park to the Point Grey Stadium.

Both clubs won their way into the league final last week by scoring victories over North Shore Lions, last season's titleholders, and the Knights of Columbus. The students blanked the Lions, 12-0, while the Revellers smashed their way to a thrilling victory over the Kaycees in the Capital City, Varsity, by its last record, will be favored to win here Saturday, but the locals are not taking the Victorians any too lightly, as the Revellers have been improving rapidly in late games, and therefore will be fighting all the way.

V. Hall (4), M. Purdy (6) and T. Bradford, Total, 19.

Eight Aces—Pridham (9), R. Price (9), W. Price, Smith (7), Webster, Clague (7) and Whitfield (4). Total, 36.

Bombers—Cullin, Jackson (2), Uttke (2), N. Coates, Mason (6), Ross (3), Cosier (2) and Sellick. Total, 16.

SATURDAY'S GAMES
Games carded Saturday evening at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium are as follows:

7:00—St. Louis College vs. Chinese Students, junior boys.

8:00—Caveys vs. Northwestern Creamery, intermediate "A" boys.

9:00—Deals vs. Senators, exhibition.

explosion drew crowds. Searchlights were turned on from the town, adding the rescue work. At first watchers thought an air raid was on, but then they saw vessels hurrying to the stricken destroyer.

Small boats were launched and the survivors were brought ashore. The sailors were amazingly cheerful after their ordeal. They were wearing all kinds of clothing, including dressing gowns and bathing suits.

Leader—Moretti.

Maple Leaf's Chalk Up Win Over Varsity

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22 (AP)—Maple Leafs, who won the Dominion championship two years under the label of Westerns, handed University of British Columbia a 46-42 defeat in an Inter-City Basketball League game here tonight.

Paced by Jimmy Bardsley, who ran in seventeen points, Maple Leafs ripped through the Varsity defence with ease and at the end of the third quarter had a fifteen-point advantage, leading 39-24. Maple Leafs were ahead 26-16 at half time.

The league leaders let up in the final quarter, scoring only eight points as Varsity dropped in eighteen.

Doug Pedlow with eleven and Joe Ryan, student from Nanaimo, B.C., who counted six, led Varsity snipers.

BOXER REMAINS SILENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Harry Thomas, barred from Illinois rings after claiming he "threw" fights with Max Schmeling and Tony Galento, declined to talk when he appeared before the New York State Athletic Commission today.

Thomas declined to make any statement on the grounds that it might "incriminate and degrade" him.

CRIME TEARS ON CAROL WELLS

CHAPTER I
"Well, my vote is for old Job Hendricks," Tom stated. "I know about his starting out with a ladder, and turning back, and all that, but, to my mind, he's the best suspect so far."
"Hendricks could have had a motive, something like this," Everett Ames suggested. "Say he did kill Mr. Madison, and say Hetty saw him, either coming or going; he might have wanted her out of the way."
"But he couldn't have come over here this afternoon and given her poison!" Tom exclaimed.
"No, but he could have had a pal among the Madison servants, say Rosie, or some other pretty maid was his sweetheart; he could make her be his accomplice."
"Job Hendricks isn't likely to have a sweetheart among the Madison staff," Stone said. "Yet if some one of the village people is responsible for Hetty's death, it apparently would have to be done by some accomplice in this house."
The telephone rang then, and Stone answered it.
It was Penn, and he told the detective that Mrs. Garson had died from a dose of bichloride of mercury, which, as Stone knew, was an old name for corrosive sublimate. Penn said, further, that a large dose had been taken, and he hoped that Mr. Stone would get busy at once, endeavoring to find the criminal, for it seemed to him unlikely that Hetty had taken it of her own accord.

Stone passed the word on to the others, and Avis and Craig came in from the terrace. Avis volunteered to go and take the message to Miss Madison as she felt sure she could do it more gently than a man could. The next day was Sunday, but that did not deter Assistant District Attorney Sutton from ordering everybody into the living-room at ten o'clock.
Earlier than that Fleming Stone had sought out Aggie. They walked along the paths of the kitchen garden, and Stone was impressed anew by the girl's quick intelligence.
"I am going to ask you to help me, Aggie," he said. "And I am sure that your quick wits will let you see my errand without letting anyone see you or know what you are up to."
"Yes, indeed, Mr. Stone, I can be very sick," she said.
"You are parlor maid, I know, but couldn't you go in the rooms of the family and guests without being noticed?"

"Yes, sir, I can now; I couldn't if Hetty was here."
"It is in Hetty's interest that I am asking you to do what I want. You heard her talking about a little hairpin?"
"Oh, yes. She was loony, you know."
"Well, here is a hairpin." He showed Aggie the hairpin he had himself taken from Hetty's hair. "I want you to go in all the rooms in the house that are occupied by women. I mean the family and the guests and the servants. Look carefully on the dressers or toilette tables and see if you can find hairpins exactly like this one."
"When did you last see Mrs. Garson?" he asked.
"Shortly before I went to dress to go on the motor ride. It was about two o'clock. I think, and Hetty came to me to report that she had finished the cleaning of my brother's room, and asked me to go with her to see how nice it looked. I went with her, and, as always, her work was done to perfection. I told her so, and we had a few words about how we should miss the master. She began to cry and I regretted I had spoken of our sorrow. I then told her that she looked tired, and that she must go and lie down for a while."

"She obeyed your instructions. Miss Madison, for I'm told that she lay down to rest about half-past two. She talked with several of the servants, and then she slept soundly. The report of the autopsy states that she had been drugged. Was she in the habit of taking any sedative?"
"Oh, no," Cornelia said. "not to my knowledge."
"I feel, Miss Madison, there is no doubt that Mrs. Garson was poisoned, and it is probable that the murderer drugged her first."
"But that would mean his being with her for some time, wouldn't it? And why would anybody kill her? It is unbelievable."
"We are trying our best to find out the criminal. You don't know of any one of the servants who might have an enmity towards her?"
"No—no, indeed. Unless—that Italian, Barrett. He is an under-gardener, and I have never liked his looks. I don't really know a thing against him, but he has a vicious face. It seems to me."

"Does anyone else know anything about this man?" Sutton asked.

"For what reason?"
"He is quarrelsome, and he grumbles for higher wages, and none of the servants like him."
"The matter shall be looked into. My difficulty now is to find how and where the poison was given to Mrs. Garson. After leaving, Miss Madison, she had a talk with her husband. They were in their own bedroom. Then—tell it yourself, Mr. Garson."
Elkanah drew a deep sigh.
"We had a talk, and then I said I must get to my work. I went out through the side kitchen door, and Hetty stayed behind talking with Mrs. Quinn, the cook. And Mrs. Quinn, she says Hetty said she was going to take a nap, and that's the last she saw of her."

DETECTIVE LOSES BADGE AND MONEY

A visiting lieutenant detective from a California city reported to police yesterday morning that he had been relieved of cash, a watch and his badge valued at $90.50.
He stated that he met a stranger in a beer parlor the previous night, and later went to his apartment. There he was struck on the chin and knocked out. Subsequently the detective was ordered to cash two travel cheques and meet the stranger at Blanshard and Belleville Streets, where he was to receive his stolen property. He was unable to cash the cheques or find the stranger.
